As at: 01.12.2023

1. Scope

- 1.1 The following purchasing conditions shall apply to the purchase of IT services of Deutsche INEOS Manufacturing Deutschland GmbH (the Client) and/or its associated Companies within the meaning of § 15 AktG. (Joint Stock Companies Law) together with its subsidiary companies.
- 1.2 Any deviating sales or delivery conditions or modifications to these conditions on the part of the Supplier will only become a constituent part of the contract if the Client acknowledges these expressly in writing. Unless agreed otherwise, the Supplier has to provide the Client with all services corresponding to his ISO 9001 certification.
- 1.3 The following shall become constituent parts of the order and in the event of inconsistencies shall apply with subsequent ranking after this in the following order:
 - 1.3.1 The provisions of the letter conveying the order together with the description of the service (specifications) including any additional preliminary technical remarks plus the associated drawings and if applicable the record of the proceedings.
 - 1.3.2 The "Purchasing conditions for IT services"
 - 1.3.3 The safety provisions in force in each case for the place of the execution of the order in their latest version.

2. Offers, Placing of orders

- 2.1 Offers, including all necessary preliminary work are – unless agreed otherwise – free of charge to the Client. Any deviations from the text of the request are to be indicated as a separate item. Alternative proposals are to be submitted separately.
- 2.2 The placing of the order together with any modification and expansion of this are required to be in written form; delivery through a computer fax or email without a signature is sufficient here.
- 2.3 All documents which have been made available by the Client shall remain the property of the Client and are to be returned to him without question once the contract has been executed, or if an order is not placed immediately. The content of such documents is to be treated as his trade secrets and is not to be made available or known to third parties, nor is it to be used by the Offerer or Supplier himself for his own (publicity) purposes.

3. Prices

- 3.1 The agreed payments are fixed prices for the period of the execution of the order and are understood to be plus the statutory turnover tax valid in each case. With the payment all expenditure (e.g. travel expenses), services and rights of the Client are settled.
- 3.2 If the payment is not made at an all-in fixed price, but with agreed hourly and/or daily rates, the Supplier has to prepare a detailed invoice. Using the Supplier's notes which in each case he has agreed prior to this with the Client, he has in particular to give evidence of the content of the services, hours worked daily and the total number of hours. Unless any other agreement has been reached, invoicing will be made monthly.
- 3.3 Additional services over and beyond the order placed are only paid if these are ordered by the Client in writing prior to execution. The unit rates must correspond to the pricing of the main order.
- 3.4 If the Client is called upon to clear up or eliminate defective work caused by a failure in the service of the Supplier, the Client can demand that his expenses (e.g. his own salary costs, outside firms) be paid.

4. Supplier Services

- 4.1 The Supplier has to provide the agreed services using his own qualified staff with the necessary care and taking into consideration the principle of economic efficiency and using optimum systems-engineering possibilities in the effective area of application in the technical context of which the results of the Supplier's work should be linked.
- 4.2 If the Supplier perceives in the provision of the contractual services that further modifications or improvements to the content and/or scope of the services appear necessary or expedient, the Supplier must inform the Client immediately in writing, providing any possible changes in cost and obtain the decision as to whether the order is to continue to be executed in the modified or improved form. The Client is obliged to provide a decision immediately.
- 4.3 The Supplier shall be responsible for the planning of the work. The result of the work planning is to be held by the Supplier in a set of documents which is to be handed over to the Client and agreed with him in good time before the work to be carried out begins. Any foreseeable or actual changes in the work planning are to be notified to the Client immediately.
- 4.4 If the work carried out is deemed unsatisfactory, the Client can intervene to rectify the project. The agreed deadlines and the exclusive responsibility of the Supplier for the proper fulfilment of the order remain unaffected by this, unless an intervention on the part of the Client is the cause of the delay to the deadline or a defect.

5. Collaborative services/ Client Representatives

- 5.1 The Client will make available to the Supplier the documents and information necessary for the work to be carried out. If the Supplier does not consider these to be sufficient, he will notify the Client of this immediately.
- 5.2 Details relating to the collaborative services, e.g. allocation of personnel, plants, equipment and programmes, computing times, tools, development environment, routine environment, the necessary rights and licences, test data and workplaces together with dates and deadlines for these will be set down in the contract.
- 5.3 The Client is to nominate a responsible contact who is available to provide the Supplier with information and decisions.
- 5.4 Collaborative services in the form of inspections and approvals shall not release the Supplier from his contractual fulfilment and guarantee obligations.

6. Granting of usage rights to work results

- 6.1 For the work results arising from the provision of service by the Supplier (including work results that are the object of ownership rights, copyrights, commercial protected rights or other economic usage rights), from the time of their creation, the Supplier cedes the irrevocable, non-exclusive, transferable usage rights to the client for the comprehensive usage of these work results for all of the Client's company purposes without time, space and contextual limitations for all types of usage. The granting of rights is covered by the agreed upon remuneration.
- 6.2 The previous granting of rights also includes the authorisation to edit the work results or have these edited, changed, translated, connected with other services and works from the Client and third parties or to be designed in any other way and to use the works/services and edits created in this manner as the original editions of the work results without the Supplier's consent.
- 6.3 If the provision of service by the Supplier includes (a) the creation of databases in accordance with §§ 87a ff. UrhG, the rights to these databases are in the relationship to the Supplier solely given to the Client as database creator in terms of § 87a section 2 UrhG (b) the creation of source code from computer programs and/or edits of such source code, the Supplier is obligated to give the Client this source code.
- 6.4 If the work result is a program, if nothing different is agreed upon, this includes the source and object or machine program.

7. Supplier Representatives

- 7.1 The Supplier has to nominate, in agreement with the Client, a qualified person as a responsible representative who can request from the Client or arrange for the necessary collaborative services. In the event that they are unable to perform these duties, a correspondingly suitable and qualified substitute is to be appointed.
- 7.2 The Client can request for the Supplier Representative and/or collaborator to be replaced if the latter prove to be unqualified and/or unacceptable to the Client.

8. Sub-contractors

- 8.1 The Supplier may only allow the order to be carried out in whole or in part by a suitable and reliable sub-contractor with the prior written agreement of the Client. The agreement of the Client shall limit neither the obligations of the Supplier nor shall it constitute any rights for the sub-contractor.
- 8.2 The Supplier has to impose on the subcontractor all obligations without restriction. In particular the insurance protection cover specified in Item 16.1 must also apply to the subcontractor.
- 8.3 The Supplier shall be obliged to make good all damages and to bear all costs resulting from the infringement of these obligations.

9. Changes to the Service / Premature termination

- 9.1 The Client shall be entitled up to the acceptance to request modifications to the services agreed with the Supplier. The Supplier will conform with the Client's modification requests provided these are not unreasonable within the scope of his operating capabilities. Should the modification to a service affect contractual arrangements, e.g. payment and completion date, the Supplier will notify the Client of this immediately. The contracting parties will thereupon agree immediately in writing the adjustment to the contract resulting from the modification taking into consideration any increase or reduction in expenditure arising.
- 9.2 The Client shall be entitled to terminate the contract at any time with a notice period of 14 days. In this case fair and reasonable payment is to be made for the service carried out to this date. The Supplier is entitled to make a claim only after all results of the work existing to that point have been handed over. In the event of termination for an important reason, the statutory provisions shall apply.

10. Documentation

- 10.1 The Client can demand that an essential component of the result of the work, and therefore a prerequisite for the acceptance (Cf. Item 15), is the provision of a complete set of documentation by the Supplier. The scope and content are determined according to the Client's guidelines. If the Client has not already provided an outline and there is no other express agreement, the documentation is to be developed corresponding to the regulations laid down in the ISO certification.
- 10.2 Programme documentation has to describe the sequence of events of the programme in verbal and graphic form and enable the Client to handle and maintain the programmes without any complications. It must describe fully and clearly all the details necessary for the understanding of the programme.
- 10.3 The Supplier hands over to the Client the development documentation according to how the work is progressing. The final version of the documentation (final documentation) is to be handed over to the Client at the latest 14 days prior to the acceptance date.
- 10.4 The final documentation must be processed separately and be suitable for the purposes of the target group in question. These target groups are essentially users, exploiters, computer centres, helpdesk employees, system administrators.

Irrespective of any on-going claims, the Client is entitled to hold the Supplier responsible for any damages and costs arising through the non-observance of the above obligations. This applies in particular to the transfer of viruses which could have been avoided by using the latest version of the anti-virus software of the selected software supplier.

This also applies to packaging products.
- 15.4 If the programme is accepted, the impeccable condition of the programme is to be proved by carrying out a successful test using the Client's original data. If programmes are used in combination with other programmes, e.g. exchange of data, the test also has to extend to the combined function. As far as the time of the acceptance is concerned, the Client's interests are also to be taken into consideration.
